

Implementing a KM and IM initiatives are not an easy task. After attending all our seminars you will have the core knowledge and skills necessary to do so. Each seminar will have helped you design the best strategy and select the tools and practices to implement in order to meet your company's KM needs. If at any point during the design or implementation of your KM initiative you think that we could be of some help, we will be happy to provide you with coaching, advisory and/or consulting services. We will find you the most qualified KM national or international expert based on your particular needs. Our partnership with the Institute for Knowledge and Innovation at the Georges Washington University (USA) as well as with European and Asian KM experts will recommend you the best solutions and the latest KM practices and tools to solve your problems.
